Sustainability and Community Investment

At COMO Hotels and Resorts, we act as custodians, rather than managers, of each destination. We recognise the privileges and responsibilities of being part of the community and are committed to celebrating local culture, supporting the domestic economy and minimising our impact on the environment.

COMO Castello Del Nero's 740-acre estate has long been the site of traditional Tuscan agricultural activity. The estate's vineyard, olive groves and beehives are still in active use and regularly supply our kitchens with quality Chianti produce. We also source fresh ingredients from local farmers, not only because local produce tastes the best, but to forge strong community ties.

We are proud of COMO Castello Del Nero's 12th century heritage and aim to retain the authentic texture of the property by preserving period features and historical details. Any changes to the castle's aesthetic are made in consultation with the Italian Fine Art Commission.
